

- there was one of my interviewees, Tom Houser, whose family (himself and 9 children) all went to Miner -- making a total of 76 years attendance in the school?
- the City Council of the P.T. A. has a student aid fund that assists children who are financially handicapped and are in need of shoes, clothes, dental care, etc?
- the milk program now offered in the schools was started by Miss Foley and the P.T.A. in the depression years so that undernourished children could get this all important food?
- the children of Miner School have taken a penny collection at Christmas time the last several years to purchase gifts for the Hanna Homestead School?
- the children from Hanna Homestead were guests of the Miner classes last spring through the efforts of Study Group? This was their first chance to see how the classes of a regular school are conducted?
- John B. Crane who writes a daily editorial about Germany for the News-Sentinel was a former Miner pupil?
- that John Crane's buddy, Carl Dutton, is Regional Director covering eight states, for the National Geographic Survey? His home is in Madison Wisconsin.
- another Miner Alumnus, Helen Clapesattle, wrote "The Brothers Mayo" the now famous book about the doctors who established the well-known Mayo Clinic?
- Dr. Don McKeeman, well known gynecologist in this city also attended Miner School?
- Sam Fletcher of the Patterson-Fletcher Company started his "book learning" at Miner?
- Albert Diserens, Head of the Reference Department of the Fort Wayne and Allen County Public Library, is a Miner Alumnus?
- the son of Miner's first P.T.A. president, Wm. J. Hockett, Jr., is a doctor in the state of Michigan.
- Dr. George Crane, who writes the "Worry Clinic" -- a syndicated column in psychological practices -- is a brother to the aforementioned John Crane who writes for the News Sentinel? George did not attend Miner, but the family were all good patrons.
- Helene Foellinger, publisher of the News-Sentinel, and her sister, Loretta, both attended this little red school house?
- John DeYoung -- an announcer and program director affiliated with Radio Station W.G.L. remembers and rejoices in his school days at Miner?
- that Hubert Hayner of Hayner, Inc. -- Plymouth Dodge Dealers -- is an interested alumnus of Miner?
- Dr. Brooks Smith (deceased) and Dr. George Cress (address unknown) both trudged along to Miner as boys?
- Ross Cassady -- of Indiana Feed & Seed Company, and his brother Raymond, who is affiliated with Hillman China Company were good Miner boys?
- Dors K. Scott -- who owns and operates "The Forest", dealers in Christmas trees, wreaths, grave blankets, and other floral arts is remembered by some of his former teachers at Miner?